Remembers Students and Poor People

WHO LOST IN OBERLIN BANK

Announcement Today by President King Has Caused Much Joy There.

Oberlin, O., Jan. 17.—(Bulletin)—President King of Oberlin college announced this morning that Andrew Carnegie had sent a draft to reimburse the students of the college and the poor of the town who lost their savings through the failure of the City

Andrew Carnegie. The National bank as a result of the Chadwick case. The amount given is not known. A commission has been authorized to investigate. The gift has caused great joy in the college and town today.

RAIDERS ELUDE JAPS

Cossack Band Returns to Russian Lines—Gen. Kuropatkin Reports the Result.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 17.—General Kuropatkin, in a dispatch to Emperor Nicholas, reported the Russian cavalry raids of Jan. 10 and 11, saying: "The Japanese suffered heavily. The Russian losses during those two days were three officers killed and 49 wounded, and 15 soldiers killed and 49 wounded." The general adds that the cavalry captured a quantity of stores and prisoners, and says that the Japanese stores at Yinkow were ablaze for nearly the whole night of Jan. 12.

A Mukden dispatch says that Gen. Mischenko's raiding force, learning that five Japanese battalions had appeared near Tashikow, returned northward and succeeded in regaining the Russian lines. Their losses were about 300 killed or wounded, all the latter being brought away.

A correspondent at Port Arthur describes an incident of the siege of the fortress when, after a disastrous attempt to capture a Russian position, a Japanese reserve regiment was ordered to renew the attempt. Not a man stirred. The major in command advanced alone, vainly calling to his men to follow. He was soon killed, and after a time the regiment, apparently struck with remorse, advanced to the assault, which completely failed. The regiment was sent back to the rear and punished with forced drills.

The consent of the Japanese government to an exchange of prisoners according to class and rank has just been received here. Consequently in the near future three Russian officers captured on the Russian volunteer fleet cruiser Ekaterinovsk by the Japanese will be exchanged for three Japanese officers captured on the Japanese transports Kinshin, sunk by the Russians in the sea of Japan, and Sado, driven ashore by the Russians in the sea of Japan. The question of an exchange of prisoners on this basis was raised by Russia last summer.

The growing of cotton in Spain is being encouraged by the Government by exporting land from the Government and offering prizes for the most successful experiments.

MINERS ENTOMBED

Score of Men Far Below Surface of the Earth—Two Known to be Dead.

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 17.—(Bulletin)—Emil Knorr, August Yagusch and Charles Laschinski, miners, are known to be dead, and a score or more of other miners are entombed by fire and smoke in a 600-foot coal mine shaft. Rescuing parties have gone into the mine, but have been unable to do anything on account of the dense smoke. The fire broke out in the mule stable. Firemen were called out and they took a line of hose down the shaft 600 feet but were unable to suppress the flames. A mile away is an escapement shaft, and to this most of the miners hastened. More than a score were cut off by the flames and held prisoners.

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 17.—(Bulletin)—All night hysterical women and men stood about the entrance to the shaft awaiting the abatement of the fire to begin the search for the bodies of the dead. Those who are known to be dead are:

August Jagusch, aged 51.
Chas. Laschinski.
Emil Knorr, aged 20.
Henry Gollan and son.
Will Fagan.
Johnn Pridle.
August Rex.
John Dunn.
Martin Challen.

Those who escaped said it was impossible to live more than a few minutes in the choking clouds of smoke and miners were seen to fall and die in their efforts to break through the cordon of flame.

Ten or twelve were enabled to crawl through an escapement at the rear of the shaft into a new shaft. One body was recovered in this way.

RUSSIA'S NOTE

Concerning China's Reputed Breaches of Neutrality Received by Secretary John Hay.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary Hay has received Russia's note concerning alleged violations of neutrality on the part of China. The note recites a number of instances heretofore published, and states that to all the representations and protestations of the imperial government to the Peking government regarding these incidents the Chinese minister of foreign affairs gave vague promises and evasive answers; that reports recently received indicate that the Chinese government is now seriously preparing to take an active part in the military operations, and that an agitation against all the whites without exception has taken hold on the people and is being constantly stimulated; that the imperial government finds it impossible not to call the attention of the powers to the above mentioned facts, which clearly prove that its efforts to assure the neutrality of China have failed, solely because of the character of the acts of the Japanese and their intimidating pressure upon the government at Peking, and that in case the actual situation in China to which attention is now invited shall continue, Russia in consequence will find herself obliged to consider the neutrality of China from the standpoint of Russia's interest.

Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, reiterated that Japan desired and intended, if possible, to adhere strictly to her agreement to respect China's neutrality. "But," he added, "if the Russian general invite them to Mongolia, our commanders under the circumstances could hardly be expected to refuse the invitation."

MRS. DUKE LEAVES

Declaring That She Had Been Hounded to Death and Wanted to Get Away.

New York, Jan. 17.—After Mrs. Brodie L. Duke had suddenly disappeared from the Union Square hotel in this city a woman, who said she was Mrs. Duke, called that hotel by telephone and notified the management that she had left New York city. She refused to say where she was staying, but declared that she would send for her baggage, which had been left at the hotel. When asked why she had left the hotel so suddenly she said that "she had been hounded to death, and wanted to get away." Mrs. Duke has been indicted in Texas on a charge of obtaining money by false promises, and a warrant for her arrest is reported to be in the mails on the way to New York.

THIRTY ARE POISONED

Parkersburg, Jan. 17.—Thirty persons at Pine Grove, representing fourteen families, are suffering from poisoning, poisoning in a serious form. Dr. Frame, president of the state board of health, fears that there will be several deaths. So far as can be traced the poisoning was caused by eating canned goods.

LT. GOV. HARDING

Says Cox's Indorsement of Myron T. Herrick

DOESN'T AFFECT CANDIDACY

Says if Cox is to be the Whole Thing Why Hold Any Convention?

Marion, O., Jan. 17.—The position taken by Geo. B. Cox in the gubernatorial matter will not affect W. G. Harding's policy. Mr. Harding said today:

"Cox's indorsement of Governor Herrick's candidacy does not affect mine. If nominations are always to be determined by Cox's attitude, as was Herrick's in 1903, and as seems to be planned in 1905, then there is no longer any need of conventions nor the discussion of candidates. To hundreds of friends who have urged me to be a candidate I have said I would be glad to accept the nomination. There is no reason for saying more than that. If there is real sentiment favorable to my nomination as has been represented, the selection of delegates will determine it."

LIEUT. GOV. W. G. HARDING.

FAVORS HERRICK

HAMILTON COUNTY BOSS MAKES A STATEMENT

Briefly Outlining His Position Before Leaving for Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—Before leaving for Hot Springs, Ark., George B. Cox, the Republican leader of this city, made public the following statement: "The Republican party has been, in the past, capable of attending to its own affairs. Factions are one thing, party success is another. The party has always been consistent. When it fails to be so, it deserves defeat. Governor Herrick's administration was unanimously indorsed by the last Republican state convention, and in my judgment will be by the next. Then why not be consistent? I see only one thing to do—renominate Governor Herrick. In doing this we will maintain our standard and demonstrate to the people that we mean to do right. I believe that the governor in all his acts was moved by good motives—motives that intended good for all the people. Unless otherwise can be shown I see no reason why he should not be renominated. In fact, I think he ought to be. It was my intention not to commit myself on this subject until my return from the fact that my position might be misconstrued. I have concluded to make this statement now. I think Governor Herrick is entitled to the support of all good Republicans. He shall have mine."

Russian Socialists Active. St. Petersburg, Jan. 17.—While the strike at the Putiloff iron works is the outgrowth of the question as to recognition of the union, the Socialists are trying to seize the opportunity for the organization of sympathetic strikes in other industries of St. Petersburg, with the object of creating an anti-government demonstration. The union originally was organized by M. Soubaloff under the direction of the late Minister of the Interior Von Plehve, in order to combat the Socialistic Democrats, but the latter are now in control of the union and are using the government's instrument for their own purposes. The Putiloff iron works are exporting large quantities of cannon and small arms, rapid-fire cannon and locomotives, which fact probably will induce the authorities to make every effort for an adjustment of the difference between the workmen and their employers.

TO THE JURY

Murder Case Against Dr. Koch Went at New Ulm Today.

New Ulm, Minn., Jan. 17.—The case of Dr. Koch charged with the murder of Dr. Gehhardt went to the jury today. Against much circumstantial evidence stands the word of Editor Brooks that Koch is not the murderer. The state failed today in an effort to impeach Brooks' testimony and hence the case was dropped.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 17.—The mine workers' convention will, before adjournment, adopt measures to establish co-operative stores in all districts. This is one of the most radical steps ever taken by any union.

Through sleeping car service was inaugurated between Lima, Ind., and Indianapolis, running by the Western Ohio to Piqua, the Dayton and Troy to Dayton, the Dayton and Western and the Indianapolis and Eastern. The service will be without change of cars on two specials and the limited on the Dayton-Lima run will make direct connection at Dayton for the west on its other two cars, practically giving four trains each way daily.

Swell in the Ohio. Cincinnati, O., Jan. 17.—The river is rising rapidly, and with the channel full of heavy ice, covered with snow, it appears menacing, but as yet there is not much cause for alarm. Indications are that it will not go beyond 30 feet. From headwaters down to near Point Pleasant the Ohio was falling, and the crest of the recent Pittsburgh rise is between Cincinnati and Huntington.

Armory Burns. Bucyrus, O., Jan. 17.—Fire consumed the armory building of Company A, Eighth O. N. G. The explosion of ammunition prevented the firemen saving any of the property. Keller Post, G. A. R., had their post room in the same building, and all their property was destroyed. Several other buildings in the neighborhood were burned to the ground. The loss will amount to nearly $20,000.

Receiver Applied For. Lima, O., Jan. 17.—Involved in the failure of the South Side bank of this city, and discouraged by the continued reductions in the price of oil, application was made for the appointment of a receiver for the Argus Oil company, an old established concern. HEAVY LOSS Sustained by Fire at the Sulzberger Packing Plant in the City of Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Despite the united efforts of the greater portion of the fire department of Chicago, the fire which broke out Sunday night in the beef storage department of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company's packing plant at the stockyards is still burning. Thirty-three firemen and helpers have been overcome by smoke, heat and ammonia gas. All of the men were rescued, however, in time to save their lives, and none of them will die from the effects of the gas. The loss to the packing company on the building and beef stored in the place, which has been damaged by smoke, is estimated at $400,000. Chief Fire Marshal Campbell declared that the fire was the worst he has ever tried to subdue, because of the difficulty in finding the blaze. There are no doors or windows giving access to the burning sawdust, which is packed tightly between the walls of the building to afford a frigid atmosphere for the storage rooms.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Thirty companies of firemen, cold, exhausted and sleepless are still fighting the fire in the Schwarzschild and Sulzberger great meat plant in the stock yards. At daybreak today after 36 hours of continuous battle, Chief Campbell announced the fire checked and that the remainder of the big plant had been saved. The loss is $625,000 in property and thirty-five firemen were overcome or injured.

ATHEIST

Fell Dead When the Indiana Preacher Remarked That He Could Not be Saved.

Winnamac, Ind., Jan. 7.—The sudden death of Richard Bossy, during church services in the Wilders Station Chapel has caused a commotion among saints and sinners alike.

Bossy had long been known as an atheist, and was alleged to have said on various occasions that he had no use for churches. However, Sunday night he entered the church to seek shelter from the midwinter storm. Soon after he entered Rev. James McCarty made an earnest plea for Gospel recruits, and during the course of his talk said: "There is one unbeliever in this congregation, a sinner who cannot be saved from death unless he becomes a Christian."

The prophesy of the preacher was soon fulfilled, when Bossy, with an anguished cry of "Oh!" fell back in his seat a corpse.

RESISTED ARREST

Brothers Shot Dead and Three Officers Were Wounded in a Fight in the South.

Tuskegee, Ala., Jan. 17.—While attempting to arrest Robert and James McBryde here Sheriff T. F. Conner was perhaps fatally stabbed, Robert and James McBryde were both shot to death. Deputy Sheriff George Tamar was dangerously stabbed about the body and legs and City Marshal S. Y. Taylor was cut about the arms. The cause of the tragedy was an attempt on the part of the sheriff and the marshal to arrest the McBryde boys, who, it is alleged, were drinking and acting in a disorderly manner in their boarding house. They resisted arrest and used their knives freely, which caused the officers to bring their pistols into play.

MANY INDICTMENTS

Are Returned at Pueblo, Colorado, and Arrests are Made for Election Frauds.

Pueblo, Colo., Jan. 17.—Many election indictments were returned here, and arrests followed. Former County Clerk W. T. Fairfax and his deputies, Percy Ely and O. Q. McNeill, were arrested on a grand jury indictment which charged them with conspiracy in placing many fictitious names on the registration lists. Former Judge L. B. Gibson of the county court and his clerk, L. B. Gibson, of the county court, also were placed under bond, charged with violation of the election laws in issuing "naturalization certificates." City Detective E. H. Wilson is named in the indictment, which accuses him of being an "offering" of money to the county court for the purpose of securing the election of a certain party to the county court.

ATTEMPT MADE

To Buy His Vote Says a Legislator.

ASSEMBLY WILL INVESTIGATE

Niedringhaus Exonerated by the Committees in Missouri Legislature.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 17.—The committee appointed by the senate to investigate state campaign fund contributions and determine their source elicited from Representative L. R. Cook of West Plains, Powell county, the statement that he had been approached twice with offers to buy his caucus vote on a senatorial nominee, providing he cast it for Thomas K. Niedringhaus. He declared the propositions were made to him the day preceding the Republican senatorial caucus, Jan. 4, by M. E. Morrow, a personal friend, representing A. F. Hallenbeck, postmaster at West Plains.

It was announced that Hallenbeck will be subpoenaed before the committee. Morrow appeared before the committee and denied having heard the statement of Hallenbeck to Cook as attributed by Cook to have been made. Alex. Niedringhaus, brother of Thomas K. Niedringhaus, testified that the costs of the senatorial campaign of his brother, which he had helped manage, amounted to between $7,000 and $9,000.

The senate committee made a partial report of its finding to the effect that Niedringhaus did not contribute to the campaign fund the full sum of $21,237.51 accredited to him; that he did not file a complete statement of receipts of his committee in the state campaign as required by law, and that there was no direct evidence to show that contributions to the fund by Adolphus Busch or Otto F. Stifel were made for the purpose of influencing or affecting legislation in the general assembly.

The house committee prepared a Republican majority report which it said exonerates Niedringhaus.

GERMAN EMPEROR

Has Intervened Personally in the Great Coal Strike, Which Involves 100,000 Men.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Emperor William has intervened personally in the coal strike. The emperor, while dining with Commerce Minister Moller Friday, talked over with him the swift spread of the strike, which already embraced nearly 100,000 men, and the certainty that German industry would be tremendously affected should 300,000 men quit work as threatened. The emperor said it was the duty of the government to bring its judgment and authority to bear on the mine owners and on the miners.

General Strike On. Berlin, Jan. 17.—The strike of coal miners is the most formidable affair of the kind that Germany has ever had. There has been no serious trouble in the coal industry since the strike of 1889, but this strike far eclipses the one alluded to, all labor organizations taking part, whereas in 1889 only the Socialist unions were concerned. The present movement has been largely engineered by the so-called Christian Socialists, which otherwise oppose the Socialist element. Three hundred thousand men are involved.

Canal Strike Broken. Colon, Jan. 17.—The strike of the St. Cristobal men has ended. The canal officials brought in 120 laborers, chiefly Colombians, from Panama and other points along the line. These men temporarily are receiving $1.50 silver per day and also free quarters and food. Several striking laborers were evicted from the canal commission's houses, but a large number have given up the strike and are gradually resuming work.

CASE OF PAUL MORTON.

Alleged Inconsistency Between His Ideas and Those of the President.

The case of Paul Morton, secretary of the navy and one of the new members of President Roosevelt's cabinet, is a peculiar one. Mr. Roosevelt is believed to have chosen Mr. Morton as one of his advisers because he thought it would be a good thing to have a business man who had marked executive ability and capacity for large affairs at the head of one of the great governmental departments and among the counselors of state. It is further said that Mr. Roosevelt counted on obtaining advice from Mr. Morton as a practical railroad man in solving questions in connection with railroad freight rates.

Mr. Morton, who gave up a salary of $36,000 a year as second vice president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railway to become a cabinet member at $8,000 per annum, has been a bustling secretary and has shaken things up in the navy department. He is credited with unrolling a great deal of red tape and putting things on a much more businesslike basis than they were on before. But it is stated that his acts while a railway official were in conflict with the spirit of President Roosevelt's crusade against railroad rebates. It is recalled that Mr. Morton testified before the interstate commerce commission in 1901 that as an official of the Santa Fe he had granted rebates to beef packers and that he knew this was in violation of the law.

Mr. Morton was born forty-seven years ago in Detroit and is a son of the late J. Sterling Morton, who was a cabinet member under President Cleveland. He began his railroad career at fifteen as a clerk in a railway office and rose through all grades of the service to a position of influence in the railroad world. He became secretary of the navy last summer.

HERO OF MANY BATTLES.

General Arthur MacArthur, Who Will See Japs Fight Russians.

General Arthur MacArthur, who is to go to Manchuria to watch the military operations in the war between Japan and Russia, is now the senior major general of the United States army and is a veteran of the civil war, though he does not yet look like an old man. He was fifteen when the war broke out, and his father had trouble to keep him from running away and enlisting. By the time young MacArthur was seventeen his father determined that it was no use trying to keep the boy out of the army and got him a lieutenant's commission. He began service performing the duties of an adjutant in the Twenty-fourth Wisconsin infantry. He looked scarcely more than fourteen.

MAJOR GENERAL ARTHUR MACARTHUR.

was small and frail and had a squeaky voice, and at the first parade he made such a failure that the soldiers laughed at him and the colonel said he would request the appointment of a man for adjutant instead of a boy. Adjutant MacArthur went to his tent that night and cried. But it was not long before he had a chance to show the stuff of which he was made. The courage he displayed on the battlefield won him successive promotions and at nineteen he was a major. Grant would have recommended him for a brigadier generalship after the battle of Missionary Ridge, only for the fact that it was not good policy to put a boy of nineteen over the heads of veteran officers. General MacArthur's life was once saved by a package of love letters which slipped a bullet aimed at his heart. For his part in the battle of Missionary Ridge he received the congressional medal of honor. He rendered distinguished service in the Philippines and for a time was in command of the American forces there and governor general of the islands. He will reach the age of retirement in 1925.

IN A MUKDEN HOSPITAL.

Russian Surgeon's Skill Described by Richard H. Little.

MEN SHOT IN THE BRAIN HEALED

Wonderful Cure Effected by Dr. Richard Butz in the Case of a Russian Soldier Shot Through the Heart—Wounded Japanese Kindly Treated—Cossack Officer's Faith in the Doctor's Ability.

After having been out at the front for two weeks watching the Japanese shoot holes through our Russians it was very interesting while resting in Mukden to watch how the holes were plugged up, says Richard H. Little, the Manchurian correspondent of the Chicago News.

Dr. Richard Butz is the hero of this narrative—that is, if it is proper to call a man who has not waded through fields of slaughter a hero. He is one of the great stumbling blocks that lie in the Japanese path to victory. They hit a man in a vital spot and by all the laws of war and medical science the man should be dead and another name added to the sum total of the victims of Japanese prowess. Instead of that, Dr. Butz receives the man into his hospital, finds the bullet and throws it away, patches up the works, and the man gets well and goes back to the firing line.

Dr. Butz has cared for sixty-five men shot in the brain. The modern high velocity small bore steel bullet gives the skillful surgeon a chance. Of these sixty-five men operated on by Dr. Butz many had bullet wounds straight through the brain. These were easy to treat. But others had severe fractures, caused by fragments of shell smashing the bones of the skull and driving pieces into the brain. The bullets from the shrapnel shells also make bad wounds. They are of slow velocity and instead of whistling clean through a man when they hit, searing with their intense heat the edges of the wound, they break and fracture where they enter and lodge in the body. Yet of these sixty-five difficult cases Dr. Butz has lost only five.

I was down at the hospital the other day and took a picture of a man whom the Japanese had killed in as pains-taking and thorough a manner as anybody can kill a man and still have some regard for the Geneva convention. They had drilled a rifle bullet straight through his heart. The Russian burial party took the word of the Japanese for it. They dug the grave and put up a wooden cross at the head of it, and the priest came and granted absolution and went away, and the burial party sat down and waited for the man who was shot through the heart to quit smoking cigarettes and fold his pale hands over his breast. The dying soldier smoked cigarettes until the burial party had none left, and then they carried him into a house, so they could get some tea and catch a few hours of sleep while the man who was shot through the heart could die when he got good and ready.

That night—this was on the fourth day of the battle of the Sha River—the Japanese opened a shell fire on the town, and all the wounded were hurriedly gathered up and carried off to Mukden. Along with the rest went the man who was shot through the heart, never thinking to tell the litter bearers that it was all a mistake and that his grave had been fixed and the wooden cross put up and that he was expected back. Arriving at Mukden, the wounded were sorted out, and all who could be classified as "desperate cases" were taken over to Dr. Butz's hospital.

As a desperate case the man who was shot through the heart stood at the very top of the list. The young surgeon who did the sorting out didn't know whether the man would live long enough to be put into the ambulance, but when he saw the patient had a hole through his heart he said, "This will tickle old Butz to death; it's just his kind." So he sent the man along. He was carried very carefully into the hospital, and the doctor was sent for. I saw the man with a bullet hole through his heart two weeks after the shooting occurred. He was not in his bed, and we had to hunt for him all over the hospital and finally rounded him up at the far end, where he was foregathering with some of his regiment who were also convalescent.

He came back and sat for his picture on condition that he would be permitted to put his uniform on in a few days more and go downtown. After I saw this man I no longer wondered why the Japanese success was only momentary. What's the use of killing men when Dr. Butz overhauls them and patches them up and makes them good as new?

Dr. Butz, when at home in St. Petersburg, is at the head of the largest hospital in the Russian capital. He was born in the Baltic provinces of Russia, and German was his mother tongue. He was educated in Germany and finished his medical studies at the Edinburgh university.

The doctor is proud of his hospital in Mukden. It is not much to look at. It was formerly one of the machine shops of the railroad and is located in the center of the Russian settlement, three and a half miles from the brick walls of Mukden. During the summer the doctor had for a hospital a lama temple, which he had put into good repair. It was a cool, pretty place, with courtyards crowded with splendid trees. But after Liaoyang, when it was thought for awhile that it would be necessary to retreat to Tieling, the doctor was obliged to give up his temple and bring his wounded down to the new hospital in the old machine shop, so that in case of necessity his wounded could be readily put on the cars and taken north.

Since he came out to Manchuria in June 3,500 patients have passed through Dr. Butz's hands. Of this number sixty were suffering from wounds in the head affecting the brain. Trepanning has been necessary in every case of shell wound, but bullet wounds which extend quite through the brain often heal without much trouble. Shrapnel wounds are the worst to handle, as the fragments of the shell mangle and tear in a frightful fashion.

Every available foot of space in the doctor's hospital is covered with wounded. There are not enough cots to go around, and beds are made up on the floor so close together that there are only narrow pathways for the doctors and nurses to walk in. On a visit to the hospital the other day I found five Japanese wounded being cared for. One was shot through the head, but the doctor had removed a piece of the skull and taken out the splinters and otherwise operated on the wound so that it was healing nicely, and the patient was sitting up in his bed, smoking cigarettes and smiling. Two other Japanese, one of whom had been shot twice through the lungs and another who had been bored through the intestines by a bullet and stabbed a half dozen times by bayonets in the desperate fight for the fourteen guns captured by the Russians on the little hill to the left of the railroad, were both convalescent.

The little Japanese were as well cared for as the Russian prisoners and looked quite contented. The doctor and a Red Cross nurse meantime were busy for more than half an hour giving soup to another poor little boy Japanese whose wound in the head had produced lockjaw and who could just barely open his mouth wide enough to take a little of the soup that the nurse was feeding to him.

"Sorry, awfully sorry," said the doctor when he joined us again. "I've done everything I could for that boy, but I'm afraid I'm going to lose him. He's a good boy, a brave, patient little soul. Oh, war, war, war! It's horrible, horrible!"

I watched the doctor that afternoon as he undid some more of the wanton cruelty of civilized warfare. They brought in to us a man, or, at least, it was what was left of a man. A shrapnel shell had almost done for him, and there didn't seem to be anything but a tattered, bloody bundle left.

"Man's the same as dead," whispered an assistant to me. "Nobody would touch him but Dr. Butz."

Dr. Butz did touch him. He worked and worked and cut and saved and sewed up. It seemed to me that he took the man apart and laid the pieces out on the table and tinkered up each one and then put them all back. I know I was terribly alarmed when the operation was about over for fear a stomach or one of the lungs or a heart or something had fallen off the table and been overlooked and the man would get well and go through life minus one of these things.

I never doubted but that the man would get well. I know he was horribly mangled. But I know Dr. Butz too. I have the same confidence in him that every poor tortured wounded man carried into his hospital has from the moment the doctor first lays his hands on him. I feel as much confidence in the doctor as does a Cossack officer who told me that he was going to tie a card around his neck saying that if ever he got blown into infinitesimal fragments by a shrapnel shell please to sweep up the pieces into a cigar box and mail to Dr. Butz and that two weeks after he got out of the hospital and returned to his regiment he would send a check for a hundred rubles to the man who did the sweeping. I expect the next time I go down to the hospital to see the man I saw the doctor take apart and put together sitting up and trading cigarettes with the man who was shot through the heart.

A State Carriage on the Junk Dump.

Broken and battered, denuded of any trace of its former finery and discarded even by the village junk dealer, the ruin of the carriage owned by General Sol Meredith in his proudest days stands rotting in a vacant lot behind a lively stable at Hagerstown, Ind., says the Indianapolis News. Forty years ago the carriage was made according to specifications by a famous carriage maker in the east, and it was regarded a marvel of the builder's art. It cost $3,000 and was the finest carriage in Wayne county. When General Meredith rode out in the carriage behind a team of white horses, with his driver and his attendants, he excited great admiration. It is said that General Grant when he was inaugurated, with General Meredith at his side and the prancing white horses in front, rode in the carriage from the White House to the capitol.

Fairbanks' Successor in the Senate.

Vice President Elect Fairbanks will be succeeded in the senate by James A. Hemenway, better known as "Buffalo Bones," because when he went to Kansas at the age of seventeen he observed a lot of fertilizing material in the shape of buffalo bones scattered over the prairie and tried, with not much success, to find a market for them, says Harper's Weekly. Subsequently he became a sewing machine agent, but perceiving no future in the business he thought he would study law, supporting himself meanwhile like many another distinguished American, by teaching school. The law proved for him, as it has proved so often, a stepping stone to political success, and at the age of thirty he entered the house of representatives. Now, at forty five, "Buffalo Bones" will be a senator.

CANCER TREATMENT

SCIENTIST THINKS SCOURGE CAN BE WIPED OUT.

Successful Experiments Made Upon Mice Infected With the Dread Parasitic Growth.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 17—"Doctors Gaylord and Clowes, assisted by Mr. Boeslack, of the cancer laboratory of the State Department of Health, have recently performed a series of experiments on mice infected with cancer, which have led to the discovery of an antitoxic serum which visibly affects the growth of cancer in mice, and in a number of cases has been sufficient to cause the total disappearance and cure of tumors of considerable size.

From the inoculated mice the laboratory workers succeeded after months of experimentation in transplanting true cancer to a previously healthy animal. This step was worked over and over again, until there was no possible shadow of a doubt as to the success of the inoculation and reproduction, and this result, brilliant in the smoothness of its progressive steps corroborated the discovery that cancer was an infectious disease.

With this fact established beyond dispute, and with the unquestionable knowledge that the disease was parasitic, the first faint glimmer of ultimate success became apparent.

The stumbling block over which the scientific world had been squabbling and arguing for years having been removed to the satisfaction of the Buffalo workers, they turned their efforts to the most logical treatment, serum therapy, and began the final work of the preliminary investigations.

Mice, clean and healthy, were infected with cancer and died. Post-mortem examination disclosed that the infection was the cause of death, and that the resulting cancer was classic in type, possessing all the features of the growth as found in man.

Other healthy mice were infected with cancer successfully and presented all the classic symptoms of true cancer. From these animals was prepared a serum. As in all experimental work of this character failure and delay followed the early efforts to produce a serum which fulfilled the requirements; but, satisfied that they were on the right track, the laboratory workers kept close to the lines they had laid out and in the tardiness of their belief possibly went to extremes.

The cancerous mice which were infected with the serum died.

Back over the blazed trail worked the investigators, solving hidden problems, delving into the mysteries of the disease, and proving their work, carefully testing every step they had made and finally reaching the starting point. They began all over again, keeping close to their original marks, but avoiding the quicksands of their earlier defeats. Time and again they did this time and again they met defeat, just when they were confident of success, when all signs were favorable. Each time this happened there was a fresh beginning fresh inoculations, days and weeks of watchfulness, and study, and the preparation and use of new serum.

Then came success. A mouse with proved cancer was injected with a new serum. In a short time the tumor appeared smaller; soon it was appreciably lessened in size; finally it disappeared altogether and a cure was apparent.

That happened months ago, and steadily, unceasingly since then the work has been followed up until now it is an absolute fact, scientific in all its details, and the cure of cancer in lower animal life has reached so perfect a stage as to be demonstrable to event he lay mind.

Scientific proving of such matters is rather simple after all the work has been done. In this case two mice would be inoculated with cancer. Only one would be treated with the newly discovered serum—the untreated mouse dies; the treated animal recovers. If this is done time and again with always the same result, science counts a victory.

Scientists have been studying the cancer problem at the Gratwick laboratory for five years, and perhaps a year more will elapse before Dr. Rosewell Park, director of the laboratory, will be able to report the final announcement of the result of the experiments.

At the laboratory information is refused regarding the experiments on human beings. It is said, however, that such experiments are being conducted and some results will have been achieved within a year.

The progress of reform sentiment in Russia is evidenced by the statement that Prince Khilkoff, the great railroad builder and minister of communications, has become a convert to it. He is said to favor complete equality of all Russian subjects without distinction of caste, religion or conviction. The great trans-Siberian railroad was built under his direction. Although by birth a prince he received practical training as a railroad engineer. When a boy he ran away from home to Brazil, whence he came to the United States. His experiences on this side of the water no doubt largely contributed to his becoming a follower of liberal ideas.

Russia's protest to the neutral nations against the alleged violation of Chinese neutrality by the Japanese and Chinese is attributed to two reasons, the desire to induce the United States to urge all the powers to insist upon the agreement for the segregation of the war, and also to give Russia a free rein in dealing with China. The latter is most probably the true reason. In the event of Russian success, partial or complete, in the war with Japan, the government of the Czar will doubtless insist upon greatly increased privileges in China, and the alleged violation of her neutrality will furnish the excuse. The Japanese will, of course, counter Russia's complaint by claiming that the allegations are unfounded, and that Russia herself has violated Chinese neutrality.

There is said to be little hope for the passage of any legislation regulating railroad rates at this session of Congress. A measure which would practically make no change in the situation, it is stated, might be passed, but it is feared that if such a scheme were attempted the President would at once call an extra session. The necessity for such a session to deal not only with railroad regulation, but with tariff revision, is becoming more apparent daily. Just as soon as the Republican leaders who have been fighting against legislation on either subject recognizes the fact they will probably endeavor to influence the time when the session shall be called. The plea then doubtless will be made for a postponement until the fall, so that time can be had for the preparation of a new tariff bill and further discussion of the form of the railroad regulation bill. But whatever reform legislation these Republican leaders adopt will be by the compulsion of public sentiment.

The rails of the Mexican Gulf railroad are laid on mahogany sleepers and the bridges are built of white marble. In West Mexico is a line with ebony sleepers and ballast of silver ore drawn from the mines beside the track. The engineers constructing these railways had no other material on the route, and found it cheaper to use these seeming extravagances than to import the ordinary material.

CENTENARIAN

Elected to be the First Corpse for a New Graveyard Celebrates His 115th Anniversary.

New York, Jan. 17.—Levi Rouss, of Passaic, N. J., has celebrated what he claims to be his 115th birthday. Rouss has resided in Passaic 12 years, having been taken there from New York by local Hebrew leaders. The latter had secured ground on the outskirts of Passaic for a new cemetery, and to follow out an ancient tradition, wanted to find an old man to be the first to lie in it. Rouss was found on the East Side and it was thought he could live only a short time. His fellow Hebrews promised him money a home and plenty of food.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

The consideration was that he be buried in the new cemetery. It took Rouss one week to get back his health, and since then, except for about two weeks last spring, he has walked about unaided. Several members of the committee who took him to Passaic, expecting that he would soon be buried in the new cemetery, are now resting there themselves.

STANDARD OIL

COMMANDS SILENCE AND ORDER IS OBEYED.

Latest Broadside From Tom Lawson Drew Not an Answering Shot From John D.

New York Jan. 17.—John D. Rockefeller's executive order of "Silence" prevailed throughout the Standard Oil army and its allies. The latest broadside from Thomas W. Lawson drew not an answering shot.

This policy is the result of a series of conferences of the Standard's official officials—the war council it has been called. Here are the facts.

When Lawson began recently to publish specific charges against Standard financial operations, H. H. Rogers became furious and advocated a policy of swift, vigorous retaliation, in which District Attorney Jerome was consulted by Standard lawyers, who urged the indictment of Mr. Lawson on charges of rigging the stock market and of criminal libel.

The district attorney refused to lay the case directly before the grand jury, saying that it was against his rule to take cases before the grand jury in the first instance. Criminal prosecutions, he said, must take the regular procedure of examination. First before a magistrate and, if the magistrate so decides, the prisoner is held to await the action of the grand jury.

Mr. Jerome informed the Standard lawyers that if Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Rogers desired to criminally prosecute Mr. Lawson and his publisher, they would have to appear as witnesses before a magistrate just the same as ordinary complainants.

This procedure would compel the Standard officials to submit themselves to cross-examination by Lawson's lawyers. They were willing to appear before the grand jury, where no troublesome lawyers are admitted and all proceedings secret, but they would not appear in public police courts. Therefore, the plan of criminal prosecution was dropped.

Mr. Rockefeller, though opposed strongly by his fighting lieutenants, then asserted his authority and imposed the policy of absolute silence and standing pat. He exacted a promise from them all to abstain from talking for publication, not even to give private information that might reach the newspapers, and to take no open action.

"Lawson will over-reach himself," was Mr. Rockefeller's declaration. "If we let him have free rein he will go to greater extremes and bring about a reaction against himself all the sooner."

AUTO. OUTLOOK

Is Very Bright Says Mr. James Mills, Who Moves Into His New Garage.

James Mills the automobile and bicycle dealer is moving his stock into his new garage on East Church street. In speaking of the outlook for the automobile in 1905 he said that the sales would far eclipse all previous records. Heretofore orders from agents had been forwarded to factories in February and March whereas many agents had begun ordering their stocks as early last October. He himself has practically bought all the machines that he thinks he needs but the Cadillac company stands ready to furnish him additional cars should he need them.

The impetus in the automobile business will be noticed from row on. The big show in New York City opened on Monday and on February 14 that at Chicago will be inaugurated. This latter will be attended by Mr. Mills. Factories have notified agents to order early so that any disappointment in shipments may be avoided.

It is probable that the demand during 1905 will exceed the supply.

Tonight's offering at the Auditorium will be Mr. Daniel Sully in "Our Pastor."

THE TWO JOHNS THURSDAY.
Of the musical farces that have been produced in recent years there are but few that have been as successful as none more popular than J. C. Stewart's oddity, "The Two Johns," which comes to the Auditorium next Thursday, Jan. 19. The trials and tribulations of Philip and Peter Johns, the two fat cousins, certainly cause many a laugh, and its revival here will undoubtedly be welcomed by those who have already seen this comedy. The specialties that are introduced are said to be novel and some great singing and dancing numbers are promised one of the special features in the musical line being the famous Garden

MRS. BOB WHITE.

It is not generally known, but it is none the less true that Willard Spencer, the author-composer, is the originator of "dark changes" on the stage during the action of the play. It was his idea to have the change made from the interior of General Knickerbocker's house to the illuminated Japanese garden in "The Little Tycoon" when it was first produced in Philadelphia. When Mr. Spencer first suggested this idea the stage manager stood aghast, but we all know how universal it has now become in the big elaborate productions. Mr. Spencer carried his point and in his two later successes "The Princess Bonnie" and "Miss Bob White" he has adhered to his original idea and the results are particularly striking and go no little way toward making a harmonious whole so necessary to complete success. Miss Bob White will be at the Auditorium soon.

RONEY'S BOYS COMING.

The patrons of the Y. M. C. A. course three years ago remember with pleasure the one concert given by Roney's Boys of Chicago. It was pronounced by all the attempted to be one of the finest concerts ever given before a Newark audience. It will be good news to all lovers of high class music to learn that this celebrated company of boys is here in Newark, N. J., and will give a concert in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday, Jan. 28. This is a rare opportunity and the Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated for having secured this great company of boys.

Mr. R. F. Williams, a physician in Newark, musical circles has assumed the name of Roney for a time. He is a native of Tennessee and has a long record of musical success. He is now in Newark, N. J., and will give a concert in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday, Jan. 28. This is a rare opportunity and the Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated for having secured this great company of boys.

MEN WITH ANIMAL EYES.

Some of Them Who Pose as Models For Painters.

Some men possess "animal eyes," which defy disguise and which are always liable to prejudice their owner's chances throughout life. That this, however, is by no means invariably the case is evidenced by a solicitor in the north of England, who ascribes much of his prosperity to a look of profound wisdom which has gained for him many clients, but which is lent to what would otherwise be a somewhat commonplace countenance by a pair of "owl eyes."

At least three men who have come under the writer's notice (and there are possibly many more like them) earn a precarious livelihood by sitting to animal painters. All three have come down in the world, and one is unknown to the other two. The first mentioned belonged once to a good Cheshire family, but went wrong and emigrated years ago to Canada, where he found his level on the water side at Montreal.

According to his own story, he was on the verge of starvation when one evening he was accosted by a French-Canadian artist, who asked him whether he cared to earn a dollar by coming to his studio and sitting to him for half an hour. Only when the painting, a very large one, was completed did the unfortunate model discover that the picture was a study in farmyard life and that the hateful and all too familiar expression in his own eyes had been transferred faithfully to the optics of a pig on the canvas.

The two other men with peculiar eyes who earn a living by sitting to animal painters are also expatriated Englishmen. The writer met both in Paris in the winter of 1897. One of them had "dog eyes," while the other wore the expression of a cat. Both are well known to bohemian dwellers in the Latin quarter. In Florence one Boutempe got his living by posing to Matarazzo, the well known animal painter. Dogs were his specialty. He had their expression, that doglike fidelity of eye which one admires so much in the pictures by Landseer—Stray Stories.

Simple Life, Real and False.

There is every reason to expect that Pastor Wagner's doctrine of the simple life will be misinterpreted by many Americans who will endeavor to practice it as a kind of fad. They will pose as lovers of the simple life. They will have clubs, circles and guilds. They will read papers and rush into print. They will start a cult, and by dint of persistent affectation they will convince themselves and their co-sepseurs that they are the disciples of genuine simplicity.

The way to be simple in your manner of living is to be honest with yourself. Don't let the first well advertised enthusiast who comes along with a freak idea chart and forecast your scheme of life. Don't go wild about new cults and read papers about the promulgation of fancy innovations. The essence and gist of simplicity in life is to live your own life as it seems best for you to live it.—Chicago Journal.

Level Headed Boy.

Recently the editor of the Republican witnessed a scene from the rear end of a railroad train showing the fertility of resource possessed by a Kansas farmer boy. The boy had driven a big load of hay close to the crossing and waited for a train to pass. A spark from the locomotive set the hay on fire. Before the last car had passed it was in a big blaze. The boy did not stop to think. He hadn't time. He slid off, crumpled the wagon, whipped up the horses, upset the load, and before the train was a quarter of a mile away the boy, the horses and the running gear of the wagon were at a safe distance from the roaring flames that consumed the hay. This young man is a genius, and if he is not elected governor he will be a millionaire before he dies.—El Dorado Republican.

Politics and Tenace.

Representative Sydney E. Mudd of Maryland, who has coined many expensive political phrases, has just coined a new one, according to the Baltimore Sun. A young man wanted Mr. Mudd to endorse him for a minor position. "Do you live in my district?" inquired the representative. "No, I live in Baltimore, but have lived in your district." "Well, young man," retorted Mr. Mudd, with a smile. "You should know there is no past tense in politics. Politics deals only with the present and the future. However, I will violate the rule in your case and write you a letter of recommendation."

Our Money in Canada.

Canadians who travel in the United States and Americans who travel in Canada alike complain of the embarrassments incident to the different money issues of the two countries. With characteristic good humor Americans, while they may complain at the annoyance, look upon it as one of the necessary evils of international vicinage, but Canadians are beginning to take a different view of it. One of them, a member of the Ottawa parliament, has even prepared a bill making the passing of foreign coin an indictable offense.

A Chinese Vegetable.

Louis XVI. earned the gratitude of France by introducing the potato, and now President Loubet is to add another dish to the table of president and peasant. The vegetable thus honored is the Chinese potato, said to be highly appreciated at the Chinese court. The experiment is to be conducted in the Elysee garden. The vegetable is said to resemble cabbage in appearance and to have a delicious hazelnut taste.

President of the National Catholic Women's League.

Mrs. Isabelle C. O'Keefe of Chicago is president of the National Catholic Women's League. This organization now embraces a membership all over the United States, with corresponding branches in affinity in South America, Canada, Europe and even Australia. It was started as a local body in Chicago in 1892, just previous to the World's Columbian exposition, and Mrs. O'Keefe was a charter member and its first president. Its work aims at charity as the keystone, but besides the philanthropy department there are now also an art department and an educational department.

Mrs. O'Keefe is a product of Chicago. She is a university woman of high merit, has taught school and has written much. She was president of the International Woman's Press league the World's fair year, and a paper of hers read before the Columbian congress, entitled "The Newspaper, the Curiosity Shop of the World," won broad commendation.

She was the first Catholic woman ever a member of a public body in Illinois and served two terms of three years each as a member of the board of education in Chicago. During that time she caused to be passed a resolution authorizing the board of education to provide a public kindergarten system. The city council concurred. A petition was then necessary, signed by 2 per cent of all the legal voters of Chicago. This Mrs. O'Keefe with her aid provided at her own expense. The petition was approved by the county court, and the proposition was ordered placed on the ballot. Mrs. O'Keefe personally spoke at several public gatherings, got the women of Chicago interested, especially the poorer classes, and at the following municipal election the proposition carried by an overwhelming majority, over 90 per cent of the vote cast having been recorded in its favor.

Mrs. O'Keefe is a woman of exceedingly pleasant manner and of the most refined and cultured taste, a woman of broad and tolerant views. She commands a fluent pen and is a graceful and forceful public speaker. She is the mother of two daughters and says she prefers her home circle to all else. Mrs. O'Keefe is the wife of Patrick James O'Keefe, a prominent lawyer of Chicago and one of the most widely known Catholic men and advocates of the country. He was formerly for many years a journalist.—Boston Globe.

Dried Albumen.

Sometimes when a great amount of nutriment is required in its most concentrated form the home nurse is at a loss to know just how to obtain it. Dried albumen, which may be dissolved in any liquid, solves the problem. To prepare, follow these explicit directions given by a writer: "Scald," she says, "a large china plate. When cool and dry just cover the dish with the whites of fresh eggs. Set this in a warm place (about 125 degrees F.) until the water in the white of the egg has evaporated and the albumen is dry. It should then look like pieces of gelatin. Break it apart and place in sterilized jars, cover tightly, and it is ready for immediate or future use. This is of much value when nutriment is desired in a concentrated form. In heating the liquid in which dried albumen has been dissolved the temperature must not exceed 130 degrees or the albumen will coagulate."

A Plan For the Corset.

Women are tired of hearing the opinions of artists and rational women about the wearing of corsets. One writer says that a woman knows when she feels comfortable better than the artist, who himself wears collars that all but cut off his head and a pot hat which, by the same token, would look well on a statue of Adonis. So long as I can breathe freely, sit, stand, walk and even lie down in comfort in my corset I am not going to be bullied or cajoled or frightened into a substitute. A corset as a stay is a real comfort and a necessity for the woman who desires to be at ease, but has no wish to feel herself folding up when she sits down like an accordion out of commission. Corsets nowadays are comfortable. One of the highest authorities says, "I do not hesitate to state that the correctly made straight front corset, correctly selected, is superior hygienically to any corset ever devised."

BLEW OFF HEAD

Paroled Convict Killed Himself Near Coshocton

WHEN OFFICERS APPROACHED

To Arrest Him Upon Complaint of His Daughter--Ben Peoples' Suicide.

Coshocton, O., Jan. 17.—Southern Coshocton county was aroused yesterday afternoon by news of one of the most horrible suicides in its history. Alone in his squalid home near Plainfield, J. B. Peoples, better known as "Ben" Peoples, a paroled convict and under grave charges preferred by his young daughter, seized his shotgun as he saw Sheriff Browning approaching to make his arrest, and placing the muzzle to his head, blew the whole top of his head off.

Sheriff Browning, hearing the muffled report, hastened with all speed to the house to be met with the horrible sight of Peoples' skullless body weltering in a gory pool while blood and brains were splattered about the room from the force of the heavy charge.

Peoples' tragic death was the end of a life of dissipation and crime. He was about 45 years of age, and had lived on a small place near Plainfield with his wife and a family of two boys and three girls. A few years ago he was arrested on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, for an attack upon a young Guernsey county man who had been paying some attention to his eldest daughter, a bright and attractive young girl. Peoples was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for a term of years, but after serving a portion of his sentence the needs of his family and his own good prison record secured a parole for him. Upon returning home, however, his conduct was such that his wife and children, with the exception of one daughter, Jennie, about 12 years of age, refused to live with him. Jennie remained, taking care of the house for her father.

A few days ago, however, the young girl made complaint against her father. A warrant was sworn out for Peoples' arrest and placed in the hands of Sheriff Browning to serve. The sheriff drove to Peoples' home. Peoples evidently realized, upon catching sight of the officer, that at the least it meant his return to the penitentiary to serve out the remainder of his sentence, with probably a second term to follow, and in his desperation, decided to "take his own life." To secure the gun and blow out his brains was the work of a moment, and only a mutilated corpse remained for the sheriff's arrival.

The case has caused a great sensation in this section although but scant sympathy is accorded the suicide.

FOR MANY HOURS

Mother Watched Over Her Dying Boy Then She Retired and the Son Died.

Hillsboro, O., Jan. 17.—A sequel to the tragedy of Saturday night, in which Charles Colvin was fatally shot by his cousin, Edwin Colvin, was the death of Mrs. Charlotte Colvin, the mother of the victim. Immediately after the shooting she hastened to the physician's office, where her son had been taken, and remained in close attendance upon him until she was compelled to retire to the waiting room while the operation of sewing up the wound was being performed. She continued her vigil there for several hours, finally taking her son home. Her grief over the tragedy was pitiful to witness. After watching all night at her son's bedside she retired, and three hours later she was found dead. Her demise was due to heart failure caused by excitement and grief over the tragedy. The son is still living, but the doctors say he cannot recover. The wound is very similar to the one that President McKinley received when he was assassinated. The stomach was punctured in two places and a portion of the liver torn away by the bullet.

Ed Colvin who did the shooting, was arrested on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and placed under $500 bond, but this was soon after increased to $1000 when the victim's death was found to be almost a certainty. It is said that the quarrel arose over some trouble that had occurred recently between the father of the injured man and Ed Colvin.

It is rumored that sensational developments will be made when the case comes up for trial. The preliminary hearing is set for next Thursday.

RECTOR BOPE

NOT AT HOME, WHEREABOUTS NOT KNOWN.

Lawyers Say He Will Return Tomorrow and Will be Ready for the Suit.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 17.—The Rev. F. W. Bope, pastor of the Episcopal church here, whose $20,000 damage suit against W. A. Gibbs is scheduled to begin Friday, is out of the city and can not be located. No information as to his whereabouts can be learned from the family, but Mr. Bope's lawyers assured the Advocate correspondent this morning that the minister will be home tomorrow. Mr. Bope has been away since last Thursday and his absence at this time has caused many to think that he may not appear to prosecute his libel suit against Mr. Gibbs.

The statement that the prosecution had entertained an offer to compromise the attorneys pronounce a malicious falsehood. They will not compromise, they say.

In conclusion they stated they were ready for trial Friday.

Attorney Lewis Irwin of Cincinnati has been engaged to aid in the prosecution of the case. Bishop Vincent of this diocese, it is reported, has expressed himself as believing in the innocence of Mr. Bope. He says he can explain the Martin's Ferry incident, in which Miss Ida B. Smith is said to figure prominently.

FORMER NEWARK MAN

Coshocton Glassblower Died From Asphyxiation at His Home Monday.

Coshocton, O., Jan. 17.—John Donnelly, of Pittsburgh, a glassblower, was found dead from asphyxiation in his room, No. 12, at the Hotel Standen yesterday afternoon. He had a small gas stove burning, with no ventilation in the room. In his death struggles he had forced his head between the iron bars at the foot of his bed and died in horrible agony.

The deceased was well known in Newark, and was a member of the Knights of Columbus of this city.

Johnstown, O., Jan. 17.—The Rathbone Sisters instituted a new lodge at Johnstown this afternoon with a charter list of about 100 members. The new lodge will be known as White Shield Temple.

The ceremonies began at 3 o'clock and concluded with a banquet in Burke Hall at which addresses were given by new members as well as initiates.

THREE MEN FELL

From the Black Lick Bridge. One Receiving Injuries Which May Produce Death.

The collapse of a scaffold caused C. L. West and R. V. Scawell of Columbus, and Frank Kelly, of Toledo, to fall from the Black Lick bridge on the Canal Winchester pike, where they were riveting iron, yesterday.

West fell a distance of 25 feet to the ice below and sustained probably internal injuries.

The other men who were on the scaffold at the same time, fell upon the floor of the bridge, escaping without serious injury.

VERY QUEER

Was the Career of Queer, Who, Mourned as Dead, Returned Only to be Disowned.

Wooster, O., Jan. 17.—Thos. Queer, aged 48 years, mourned as dead by wife and children for 40 years, died yesterday afternoon. Queer, fifty odd years ago quarreled with his wife and left home, leaving Mrs. Queer with two daughters. After Queer had been gone ten years word was received of his death. Ten years ago Queer returned as mysteriously as he departed. He tried to effect a reconciliation with his family, but without success. Queer refused to tell where he had spent the 40 years of his absence. Mrs. Queer is still living, at the age of 81.

WET OR DRY

Hot Campaign Is Now On in Village of Hebron.

BOTH SIDES ARE PRESENTED

In Dodgers Which Are Scattered Broadcast--Election to be Held Thursday.

Hebron, O., Jan. 17.—The local option fight which ends with the election on Thursday of this week is waxing warm. The 160 voters here will decide whether the two saloons shall stay or go. Both sides express confidence in the result. Bills have been scattered broadcast and public meetings are in progress. The bills presenting both sides read as follows:

The "Dry" Circular.

Saloon or no saloon? "The distiller rides in a steam yacht, the wholesale dealer in an automobile, the retail dealer in a carriage, but the purchaser of the liquor is pulled around by the hair of his head by a policeman."

The saloons pay $700 Dow tax. So they say--Where do they get it? From drinking men. Then drinking men pay the Dow tax. Drinking men, will you vote to be taxed $700 by the saloons of Hebron to pay the Dow tax?

Drinking men, Hebron, will you not quit drinking, save your money, and with it provide for your own family instead of the saloon-keeper's family?

Why should we give credit to the saloons for paying the $700 Dow tax, when we know that they rob the drinking men of five times that much, and their manhood and morals besides, to get it?

Before you vote wet, think of the money it takes from the drinking men, their wives and children to keep the saloon keeper's family and pay the Dow tax.

If you vote wet you go into partnership with the saloon keeper and the devil to make sin lawful in Hebron. If you vote wet next Thursday you vote to have a saloon kept, and you are therefore a partner in making drunkards of the men and boys of your own town.

Do you love drunkards for neighbors? If not, vote dry.

Next Thursday the votes will make the law for Hebron for the next two years. You are a law maker that day. Your responsibility is great. Be honest. Be just. Be moral. Be thoughtful.

Would you want a brother, father or son to be made a drunkard? If not vote dry.

Tax payers of Hebron, will you vote wet to save yourselves from paying $350 which the Dow tax would bring into your town treasury, when you know it will be collected from drinking men, their wives and their children? Do you want them robbed to save a few dollars?

Are you willing to have the women of your town take in washing to support their families while their husbands and sons pay their money into the saloons to pay the Dow tax?

Why vote for saloons to make drunkards and then give your time and money to reform them?

Will you, like Judas, take the $15 and betray our fathers, our brothers and our sons?

Vote dry. Vote for God, Home and native land.

The "Wet" Side.

Facts and figures: Wet or dry.

For the year 1904 the tax valuation in the village of Hebron amounted to $173,750. The village levy for that year was 7 mills.

This brought in the sum of $1,216.45, added to this was the Dow tax, $350, making a total of $1,566.45; by advances and other sources $408.41; total receipts from May 1, 1903, to May 1, 1904, $1,974.87; total expenses from May 1, 1903, to May 1, 1904, $1,853.88.

Of this amount there was expended for stork and dis-burial the same, $529.75, leaving $1,325.12 for current expenses.

For the year of 1904 the tax valuation in the village of Hebron amounts to $173,750, a decrease in valuation of $60,420. The levy of 1904 being the same--7 mills--leaves a decrease in revenue of $422.94.

Revenue from direct tax for 1904 amounts to $1,132.22; add Dow tax, $350, total revenue for 1904, $1,482.22. Under the new code the expenses of the village will amount to not less than $1,200 per year exclusive of stork placed on the streets.

Vote dry on the 18th which will cut out the Dow tax and the revenue for the village will be $792.52 a deficit of $406.43.

Result--To make up this deficit the levy will have to be increased 3 8-10 mills, which will make the tax rate for 1905 about as follows:

State and county rate $6.80; township, 50c; village increased from $7 to $10.80; school district increased from $10 to $12; total rate, 1905, $20.10 per $1000.

Summary--Vote dry for tax rate 20 1-10 mills and have the same amount of drinking only it will be from jugs and bottles on the streets, in the alleys or behind buildings in the sight of school children and everyone else.

Vote wet and cut the tax rate down to 20 3-10 mills and keep the drinking off the streets and out of the sight of children and the general public.

THE TRUE TEST.
Tried in Newark It Has Stood the Test.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Dean's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Newark. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

John Lippincott, proprietor of livery stable at 127 11th St. Newark, O., says: "I heartily endorse Dean's Kidney Pills, and in fact, I have sold hundreds of people that this remedy kept me out of the cemetery. I had a severe case of kidney trouble. I suffered from rheumatism for a long while and had a pain across the loins that almost paralyzed me. The twinges felt like knife thrusts. When I did not suffer these sharp shooting pains there was a constant dull aching in the small of the back. As such times I could not find an easy position no matter whether I sat, stood or lay down. My back tired easily and when I tried to shift about the sharp pains would catch me again. I truly believe that if it had not been for Dean's Kidney Pills I would not be alive today. I got a box of them at Grayton's drug store and the effect of the treatment was simply wonderful. It drove the pain from me, and the twinges and there has not been a trace of any of the symptoms I have described for the past eight years. It was just after I used Dean's Kidney Pills in 1896 that I made a statement in the papers telling about my case, and I am happy to tell that after eight years I can stoop and lift and am as well as I can supply a liver as I was. I am glad to tell I know about Dean's Kidney Pills to anybody who cares to inquire."

Gambler's Knuckle Under.

New York, Jan. 17.—Following District Attorney Jerome's announcement that his crusade against the keepers of alleged gambling houses would be begun in earnest, Dave Johnson, the alleged proprietor of a gambling house on Forty-third street, appeared at the district attorney's office in response to a subpoena. Frank Farrell, the alleged gambler for whom District Attorney Jerome was searching several days, consented to turn over all of his gambling paraphernalia to be destroyed. This includes all the outfit taken in a raid in December, 1902. Dave Johnson and Frank MacDougal also consented to forfeit their gambling paraphernalia to be destroyed.

At the international poultry show at Alexander Palace, London, Nov. 9, a pair of Wyandotte chickens was sold for $87—a record price.

Mother Gray's Appeal to Women

It is a well known fact that women are the most susceptible to the effects of the cold and flu. It is also a well known fact that the cold and flu are the most common causes of the pneumonia and other serious diseases. It is therefore, a well known fact that women should be especially careful to protect themselves from the cold and flu.

There has been a great advance in the progress of the United States in recent years, the output for 1902 has exceeded 1,000,000 tons. The expansion has resulted mainly from the increase of demand for iron and steel.

The iron and steel industry has almost entirely supplanted the iron and steel industry for modern structural purposes. A very large quantity is used in the manufacture of bridges and other large structures.

"HELLO" GIRLS

GIVEN PRIZES FOR ANSWERING CALLS PROMPTLY.

Manager Hollander Keeps Tab on the Service and Makes Awards
Every Month.

In Coshocton a plan has been adopted by the Citizens Telephone company to put the girls at central station on their mettle. A number of subscribers have been asked to keep actual tab on the time it requires for "Central" to answer after they have taken the receiver off the hook.

A better plan has been in operation in Newark for about two years. Manager C. E. Hollander himself calls up from any part of the city, the girls in central station never knowing at what time or place he is going to call. At the end of the month two prizes are given, one of $5 the other of $2, to the operators making the best record.

The plan has been eminently successful in Newark.

Mr. Hollander each month makes a number of tests for each operator. The results of these tests are tabulated on a blackboard in the girls' reception room at the exchange and each operator may see her record in comparison with the record of every other one of the 29 operators.

For the month of December, Miss Francis Esan took first prize, her average being 2.7 seconds. In other words, she answered calls in 2.7 seconds on the average. Miss Maggie Simmons was second, her average being 3.3-10 seconds.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

CARROLL'S PATENT

Anti-Slip Heel Attachment Now on Sale in Newark—Patent Here Described.

As before stated in this paper, a device to keep pedestrians from slipping on icy pavements has been invented by Officer Patrick Carroll, of Newark, Ohio. It consists of a metallic plate, provided with overhanging edges, which fits into a transverse groove in the heel of the shoe. This plate or holder extends entirely across to this level. A slide is inserted into this level, on the under side of which are a number of small spurs. On one end of the slide is a downturned lip, so that when the slide is in position the lip will rest against the heel of the shoe. A hook, in the form of a turn-button, is inserted in the heel, and this serves to hold the slide in place. By this means the slide can be readily attached when its use is not necessary, and readjusted whenever desired.

This device is now being manufactured by Carroll, Matlack & Company, and are on sale at 32 North F street (Union Block), Newark, Ohio.

TO PAY MILLIONS

FABULOUS INDEBTEDNESS OF RAILWAYS TO BE PAID.

B. & O. Freight House at Columbus—B. & O. Improvements—Local and General News.

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—The railroads of this country will within the next six months pay off or convert maturing bond issues and loans to the immense amount of $192,196,120.

Of this great sum the Pennsylvania company and Pennsylvania railroad will be called upon to meet the following: Pennsylvania railroad consolidated 6s, currency, $2,757,000, due June 16; Pennsylvania railroad consolidated 6s, sterling, $22,762,620, due July 1; Pennsylvania company 4 1/2 per cent notes, $5,000,000, due October 1. The latter obligations include short-term notes.

Staggering as is the total to the lay mind the problem will be readily solved by the master minds of finance because of the abnormal ease in money and the large investment demand.

Columbus Freight Station.

The B. & O. has taken out a building permit at Columbus for the erection of a freight station to measure 47x535 feet.

Trainmen May Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—Dissatisfaction exists among the trainmen employed by the Pennsylvania railroad in the Pittsburg district because of a misunderstanding of the purpose of the vote taken last week by the members of the locals in this vicinity. This vote was taken on the proposition, it is said, "to show confidence" in the grand committee, and some members of the union allege that they did not know that a favorable vote meant the committee was empowered by them to call a strike. That there may be no doubt as to the unity of the brotherhood on the strike question, it is probable that action looking toward the calling of a strike will not be taken by the members of the committee, now treating with the officials of the road at Philadelphia, until after a referendum vote has been taken.

Railway Rate Bills.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Two bills on the railroad rate-making problem were introduced in the house, one by Representative Townsend of Michigan, creating a "court of transportation," the other by Representative Esch of Wisconsin, granting authority to the Interstate Commerce commission to name a reasonable rate in place of one they have declared unreasonable.

Some B. & O. Improvements.

Among the improvements contemplated by the B. & O. railroad for this year is the enlargement and modernizing of the docks and ore handling. Much of the docks will be rebuilt. New facilities of the road at Lorain, O. breakwaters are also to be built. At present the docks are protected by wooden sheet piling held in place by iron piling, and this is filled in behind with slag and cobble stones. These docks have given the company much trouble every time a storm occurs on the lake, and it is proposed to replace the wooden piling with steel girders. That part of the docks which will be rebuilt will be put in on a much larger scale and with permanency in view. Other work along the lake front at Lorain is contemplated by the B. & O. but it is contingent upon grants of certain property by the city councils and these grants are delaying the plans of the railroad.

The improvements at Lorain, which will cost from $50,000 to $100,000 are important in that they will increase the ore trade of Lorain, which, though small now, is increasing each year. The city has the finest harbor on Lake Erie with the exception of that at Ashtabula, and is capable of great development. City councils expect to change the banks of the Black river, which stream provides a good frontage.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted in thousands of homes as death claims in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. DEFENSE OF SMOOT

Washington, Jan. 17.—Judge James A. Miner of Salt Lake, formerly of the supreme court of Utah, at the Smoot hearing, testified as to Mr. Smoot's good character. "Polygamy is decreasing so rapidly," said the witness, "that I believe Utah will be better in ten years than any State in the Union."

"There is no more polygamous or unlawful cohabitation in Utah than there is in New York or the District of Columbia," he added.

Wm. M. McCarty of Salt Lake, a judge of the supreme court, who had served as assistant United States district attorney and county attorney in Sevier county and was known as a vigorous prosecutor of cases of polygamy, testified that after these prosecutions he was elected judge in Mormon counties. Judge McCarty said he made inquiry concerning Gentiles in Utah, and among young Mormons, finding that the consensus of opinion to be in favor of "closing eyes in toleration of conditions" and not prosecuting cases of polygamous cohabitation where the marriages were contracted before the manifesto. He said, however, that he did not agree with President Smith that the people of Utah condone the offenses of old polygamists.

Chairman Burrows asked Judge McCarty whether he thought the president of the church confessedly living in polygamous relations, had a tendency to promote or discourage the practice among the people.

"To promote it, unquestionably, I should say," was the response.

The witness thought if the president of the church should put aside his plural wives and declare against polygamous practices there would be an end to the practice, except in a few instances.

He said that President Smith went too far when he said that the people generally approved of the conditions.

He was also of the opinion that Mr. Smoot had to get consent of the church to run for senator, and that when a high church officer ran for office it was understood that he had obtained the consent of his superiors in the church. He said there was a tacit understanding that one senator should be a Mormon and one a Gentile.

Money Missing.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Haitian government, which has been trying to augment its navy by the purchase of a modern cruiser, has not only failed to secure the vessel it had in mind, but has lost the money it set apart with which to make the first payment on the ship. Mr. Powell, the American minister at Port-au-Prince, has informed the state department that the Haitian government sent an agent to Italy with $75,000 in cash to make the first payment on account of the cruiser suitable for use in Haitian waters. The agent got as far as Paris, where he stopped for a time, was stricken with fever and died. Now no trace of the money can be found.

Smoot Investigation.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Judge William M. McCarty of the supreme court of Utah, a witness called for the defense in the Smoot investigation, declared that there was a tacit understanding in Utah that one senator should be a Mormon and one a Gentile. He said Gentiles realized that if the Mormons should unite they could control and keep Gentiles off the ticket, and therefore Gentiles were apprehensive until they knew whether they were to get Mormon support. The judge said it was his opinion that too much importance was attached to the church as a political factor, and that as a matter of fact there was little interference.

Indianapolis, Jan. 17.—Congressman Hemenway and Senator Beveridge were today nominated for U. S. Senators the former to succeed Fairbanks.

OVERCROWDED ROOMS.

Study Simplicity in the Arrangement of the Home.

Order, being heaven's first law, should surely reign in the home. But this does not mean that every chair should be located by a figure in the rug nor that a book or magazine should never, never be found lying on a table where it does not belong. This kind of order is not at all vital. Once, in the long ago, it was called good housekeeping, but it can never be considered good housekeeping. In the home furnished for use and simple beauty there will come the order that brings rest and comfort. This is the kind of order that is vital.

One great fault with many housekeepers of today is that they overcrowd their homes with unnecessary furniture and so called adornments. Two brass candlesticks on a mantel are better than seven; one or two pieces of pottery are more interesting than a dozen, and a few pictures are far better from a decorative standpoint than a number. Get rid of the superfluous. Most rooms have too many pieces of furniture, and all rooms have too many things.

Simplicity of arrangement is so bound up with order and the absence of the superfluous that it cannot well be separated. A few pictures chosen to accord with the room, books that are placed within reach of those who use them, lamps that are located where they are needed, flowers that are arranged with a Japanese feeling for the value of the leaf and stem, are expressions of a love for a simple arrangement. Beauty no less than comfort is dependent upon this vital principle.—Home Beautiful.

HALL ARRANGEMENTS.

The Seat, the Table and the Hanging Hatrack.

Hatracks, with their suggestion of the "ole clo' man," are no longer fashionable, and few well appointed houses now greet the visitor with a display of the family outer garments. The carved settle and hall table suffice to accommodate the hat and coat of the transient visitor, and the men of the house exclude their superabundance of wearing apparel in the hall closet, which is built into the modern house.

If necessary, a hanging hatrack, Japanese or of domestic manufacture, may hang over the settle. A unique one noted recently was the wheel part of an old spinning wheel suspended by brass chains from the wall. The wood of the wheel, dark and rich with years, had been polished to bring out all its luster, and the shining brass chains and hooks placed at regular intervals about its periphery served to make an effective combination.

In another hall an old mahogany bureau, a family heirloom, has been transformed into a high backed settle. The upper drawers were all removed, and the seat was made of the lower ones. Gay leather Moorish cushions add a touch of color to its somber proportions.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Doughnuts will not soak lard so readily if equal amounts of lard and beef fat are used.

It is a delicious touch to dip lamb chops for an instant in lemon juice before placing them on the broiler.

When frying fish apply the egg with a brush and do not waste it on the black skin of plaice, etc., if you strive after economy.

The water used in boiling meat should not be allowed to really boil after the first five minutes. After that it should merely simmer to prevent the meat from growing tough.

Almost any creamed meat is doubly good when served in green pepper shells. Creamed chicken, mushrooms, sweetbreads and the like are especially recommended. Chicken salad in pepper shells is delicious.

State sponge cake may be transformed into an excellent dessert by cutting it in slices and toasting it delicately over the coals. Spread whipped cream on each slice and into it drop a teaspoonful of jelly.

Pillows.

Pillows wear out just like anything else, says a housekeeping authority, even though one may change the tick covering from time to time. The feathers become impregnated with dust and dirt and lose the life that is in all good feathers at first. Then, too, years ago feathers were not prepared nor pillows made according to the scientific method that now obtains. A pair of feather pillows bought today of a reliable firm are not at all like the feather pillows of our grandmother's day, as one soon finds, and it would be wise for many a housewife to go through her bedchambers and place new pillows on every bed, renovating the feathers in the old pillows, perhaps, but using them for filling sofa pillows, for which purpose they do very well, but not for affording comfortable rest and sleep at night.

Women and Flowers.

Some very attractive women cannot wear flowers at all. No matter how fresh the blooms may be in a very short time they droop, and roses especially will fairly fall over themselves, soon fading away. If this peculiar effect arises from some natural cause, what is it? One young girl who is devoted to flowers and never more happy than when surrounded by them said rather sadly to me the other day: "What can it be about me, for I have only to look at a flower to have it fade? Is it the evil eye?" I did not think it could be that, for her eyes are lovely in color and expression, but as she is by no means the only "victim," as one may call it, some reason there must be for this antagonism. Can it be physical or spiritual?—Boston Herald.

COURT HOUSE

MRS. RICHARD G. KUNNINGER SUES FOR ALIMONY.

Lewis A. Pierson Wants a Divorce—Frad Bound Over—Realty Transfers—Notes.

Mrs. Kato Kunninger by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, has commenced suit in the Probate court against Richard G. Kunninger, her husband, for alimony, and the Ben Harrison company, the Gladstone company, the Ben Holland Placer Mining company and the B. & O. railroad company are made parties to the suit. The plaintiff says that she was married November 26, 1882, and that two children were born of the marriage, who are now aged 16 and 21 years respectively. The plaintiff charges abandonment and failure to provide. She says that her husband is employed by the B. & O. as an engineer and earns at least $100 per month. She says that the defendant is the owner of 50,000 shares of capital stock of the Ben Harrison company, the Gladstone company and the Ben Holland Placer Mining company, worth at least $1000, which he has pretended to transfer on the books of said corporations to George Kunninger, his son, but that the pretended sale was without consideration, and was made for the purpose of preventing the plaintiff from charging the same in these proceedings, and from recovering out of the same any decree of alimony plaintiff might obtain. She says the B. & O. is indebted to the defendant in about the sum of $200, which he threatens to draw, and take with him out of the jurisdiction of the court in order to defeat plaintiff in her attempt to recover alimony from him. Plaintiff says she is unable to work for her own support and the support of her infant son. She asks that she be decreed reasonable alimony pending this suit, and afterwards. She asks that the B. & O. company be enjoined from paying any part of its indebtedness to the defendant, until the order of this court. She also asks that the pretended sale of stock be declared void, and that the companies mentioned be restrained from entering any transfer of said stock on their books until the final order of the court, and that the defendant be ordered to recover the stock to the defendant, Richard G. Kunninger, and cause said transfer to be made on the books of the corporation.

Wants a Divorce.

Lewis A. Pierson, by his attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, have filed his petition in the Probate court asking for divorce from his wife, Isabel Pierson. The parties were married on October 6, 1881, and lived together until March 26, 1903, when a separation took place between them, and on the 13th day of December, 1904 a complete and final settlement took place between them as to all right of alimony on the part of the defendant against the plaintiff. The plaintiff says that for three years the defendant has practiced a systematic and continuous course of cruelty towards him; that she has been guilty of infidelity.

Frad Bound Over.

A transcript from office of Justice of the Peace I. N. Knowlton of Granville in the case of Wm. D. Frad, charged with selling liquor to a minor has been filed in the Probate court. Frad, it will be remembered, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by C. C. Williams, on the charge of selling liquor to a minor. The case was heard before Squire Knowlton on Saturday, and was fought to a finish. The defendant being represented by S. L. James, while Robinson Hunter of the law firm of Hunter & Hunter of this city, represented the prosecution. Seven witnesses were examined and after hearing the testimony Frad was bound over to the Probate court in the sum of $200.

Defendant Filed Answer.

In the case of Frank C. Gruber vs. T. Milton White, the defendant has filed his answer. He says that the plaintiff ought not to have action against him, for that he admits he is Mayor of Hebron, as alleged, that no affidavit was ever filed against the plaintiff in the proceedings mentioned in the petition. The defendant says that the plaintiff was lawfully arrested by the proper officer of the village for fighting and disorderly conduct; that he waived the filing of any written affidavit or charges against him, and went to trial without any such written charges, except as he was informed by the Mayor that the charges were fighting and disorderly conduct on the streets of Hebron, and which were duly entered upon the docket of the Mayor, and his record of his proceedings in the premises; that the plaintiff was asked to plead by the Mayor. He was asked by the Mayor to say whether he was guilty or not guilty, but he refused to say. Neither did the plaintiff intimate that he desired counsel but said he didn't want counsel; neither did the plaintiff offer to give bail, nor was bail refused him. Defendant says that bail was in fact offered him, but he refused to accept it. Defendant admits that he lawfully issued a mittimus to the marshal of the village to bring the plaintiff to the county jail to serve his sentence, but denies each and every other allegation of the petition, not herein specified.

CITY COUNCIL

TELLS SOLICITOR TO BRING SUIT AGAINST COMPANY

To Forfeit Franchise—An Ordinance Against Hauling Explosives Through Newark.

The city council met on Monday night in regular session with members present: Beadle, Baker, Conrad, Carlin, Miller and Moser, President Russell in the chair.

An ordinance by Beadle was read for the first time declaring it unlawful to haul dynamite or other explosives through the city, a fine from $1 to $200, being the penalty for violation; passed under a suspension of the rules.

An ordinance by Miller accepting Wells & Miller's plat for a subdivision of certain lots; referred to Board of Public Service.

An ordinance by Miller was read for the first time providing for a clerk for the Board of Sinking Fund trustees.

RESOLUTIONS.

That Board of Public Service make a survey for the opening of Central avenue from Hoover to Ash streets, referred to Board of Public Service.

By Mr. Beadle: That Solicitor be instructed to bring suit against the Newark Gas Light and Coke company for the price of gas consumed at the Municipal electric light plant during December and to bring proceedings to forfeit the franchise of said company; adopted.

Some time ago the city exercised its option under the franchise of either accepting 2 per cent of the company's gross receipts, or free gas for the light plant and chose the latter. No gas has been furnished and the city council does not wish to bring suit each month for the price of the gas, hence Monday night's action.

PRISONERS PLEAD GUILTY.

A Number Appeared Before Judge Seward Tuesday and Received Sentences for Various Offenses.

---How the Prisoners Fared.

A number of persons indicted by the January grand jury appeared in court Tuesday morning and pleas were entered as follows:

Mark Leonard, indicted for assault, plea of guilty, fined $20 and costs and three days in jail.

George Miller, assault and battery, plea of guilt; it is charged that he assaulted Joanna Miller, his daughter. The defendant stated that she came at him with a poker and that he did not strike her at all, but merely held her from striking him. The daughter denied this. He was fined $25 and 10 days in jail.

Milton Wright, indicted for assaulting Mary Pickle with intent to criminally assault. He said he did not desire counsel and entered a plea of guilt. He says he was under the influence of liquor. He is 26 years old and is from Masterton, Monroe county. He was sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield until discharged by due process of law.

Albert Hoff, indicted for horse stealing, plea of guilt. It is charged that he took and drove away the horse of Aaron Stephenson. He says he lives in Mansfield, O., and is 60 years of age. He was sentenced to four years in the Ohio penitentiary.

David Reed, indicted for housebreaking in the day time; plea of guilt. It is charged that he broke into the house of Bert Johnson and stole a watch and some money. The defendant, it was reported to the court, had been tearing the bed clothing at the jail, in his cell, and refuses to wear any clothing at the jail, destroying the same. The court asked him how long he had been in jail and he replied: "Twenty-five dollars." The court said he thought he was insane, but the Probate court upon an inquisition of lunacy, found otherwise. He was fined $5. No jail sentence was given, and he is not to stand committed until paid. This results in the discharge of the defendant.

C. E. Keever, indicted with Reed on the same charge. The defendant says he was under the influence of cocaine and had never been in any trouble before. He lives in South Dakota, and is an iron molder by trade. He was fined $10 and imprisonment in the county jail for 25 days.

George Anderson, charged with burglarizing the store of the Bloomberg company and stealing certain clothing. He lives in New York. Says he got tired of home, and left in order to see some of the country. Drinks occasionally and was drunk at the time the offense was committed. He is 18 years of age, and was sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield.

Theo. McClelland, indicted for stealing $7.50, the property of S. B. Stickle, plea of guilt. The defendant was under arrest for intoxication at the time the offense was committed. S. B. Stickle was also under arrest at the city prison, and the policeman had taken from Stickle $7.50, which was placed on a table, when McClelland appropriated it. He is a telegraph operator, and seems to be quite intelligent. Says he came here and met some of his friends and became intoxicated; that he does not drink much but that very little produces intoxication. He was fined $15 and imprisoned five days in jail. He says he will make a supreme effort to behave himself when he gets out.

The case of E. H. Everett Co. vs.

the German Fire Insurance Co., is still on trial to the court and jury.

State of Ohio vs. Herbert Lugenbeal, charged with stealing a bicycle. Sentenced to 10 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

John Goff, burglary and larceny. Sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory.

Fined $75 and Costs.

State of Ohio vs. James Ponsor and Harry Wheeler indicted for keeping gambling rooms; pleas of guilty entered; fined $75 and costs.

IN FEW DAYS

GAS TROUBLE WITH THE CITY WILL BE SETTLED.

Mr. Robbins Says It is Not Company's Fault City Plant is Not Getting Free Fuel Gas.

Mr. W. A. Robbins, who is interested in the Newark Gas Light and Coke company, said Tuesday afternoon in regard to the action of the city council authorizing the Solicitor to bring proceedings against the company looking to a forfeiture of its franchise:

"The fact that gas has not been furnished to the municipal electric light plant is not our fault, which will be clearly shown. The council's action is too precipitate. Congressman Dawes, who is also interested in the company, will be here in a few days and matters will all be adjusted."

POLICE HUNTING

For Thomas Albaugh, Who is Said to Have Kicked Down a Door Today.

This afternoon Thomas Albaugh went to Mrs. Amos Shaw's residence at 77 South Fifth street, and when he was refused admittance kicked in a door and assaulted Mrs. Shaw's brother, Frank Jones. He then left and the police are looking for him.

"Merik" Worley was arrested for abusing his family and was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Grilly this morning.

BABY COUGHED

Then the Doctor Got a Ring the Child Had Swallowed Two Weeks Ago At Lima.

Lima, O., Jan. 17—For over two weeks a tiny finger ring has been lodged in the throat of the seven months old daughter of Charles Shaffer. A few days after Christmas the parents missed the toy's ring from its hand and they searched in vain for it. Yesterday, however, the babe during a coughing spell, brought to view the tiny gold band, which she had partially swallowed, its lodgment in her throat having caused a constant irritation and convulsive coughing, which at times threatened death. An operation successfully removed the ring and the little one is recovering.

THE STORY OF FATHER JOHN'S

An Interesting Story of Fifty Years.

True and Full of Human Interest.

Just 50 years ago in 1855, Father John, as he had become fondly known to his parishioners, became very much run down through overwork and exposure and suffered from a severe cold and cough. Finally, he consulted an eminent specialist, who gave him a prescription which produced such wonderful results in his case that he recommended it to all his parishioners and friends. In this way, it became popularly known as Father John's Medicine, and was sold and advertised by that name, with his complete approval and sanction, because he knew of its merits and desired all who were ill to benefit by its healing power.

We wish to distinctly emphasize that this remarkable medicine is not a "patent medicine" and is free from alcohol, morphine and injurious drugs.

Father John's Medicine is a sure preventive for Pneumonia and Consumption, and will positively cure Colds, Coughs, Catarrh, Stomach, and all throat and bronchial troubles. It is without equal as a body builder and health food.

Guarantee of Merit and History.

The money will be refunded if Father John's Medicine does not do all that is claimed for it, and it is further guaranteed that the history and story of Father John's Medicine are absolutely true, and $25.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise.

Sold in 50c and $1.00 bottles. The $1.00 size contains three times the quantity of the 50c size.
